

CALL FOR ENTRIES

Recognizing New, Innovative Law Enforcement Products.

2007 Innovation Awards

The Cygnus Law Enforcement Group (Law Enforcement Technology and Law Enforcement Product News magazines, Officer.com and Enforcement Expo) Innovation Awards recognize those outstanding companies whose products respond to law enforcement market challenges with creativity and innovation. We invite you to nominate your company for this most prestigious award.

Benefits of 2007 Innovation Awards:

- All participating companies will receive an invitation to an awards reception to be held during the 2007 IACP show in New Orleans.
- Each winning product will be featured in a special Innovation Awards editorial section in the December issues of Law Enforcement Product News and Law Enforcement Technology.
- Officer.com will feature a special section showcasing the winners.
- Winners and finalists will be offered a 15% rate reduction for exhibit space at the 2008 Enforcement Expo, as well as additional promotional visibility before and during the show.
- 2007 Innovation Awards "finalist" and "winner" logo artwork will be available for use in print and online advertising.

ELIGIBILITY

Only products introduced between May 1, 2006 and May 1, 2007 qualify.

JUDGING

- A distinguished panel of law enforcement professionals will evaluate each submission based | on its contribution to the law enforcement industry.
- Judging will take place during Enforcement Expo, July 11-12 in Cleveland, Ohio.

REQUIREMENTS

Companies must submit a completed entry form for each individual product entered.

A product may only be entered once, but a company may submit more than one unique product.

All entries must be accompanied by:

- An official entry form (photocopies OK).
- A 150- to 200-word statement describing the product as it relates to innovativeness, ease of use, durability and maintainability.
- A copy of the product's technical literature/specifications.
- A hi-resolution (300 dpi+) four-color photograph or digital image of the product (jpeg or tif) AND a company logo.
